What's next?

We aim for 20x growth in 10 years

-  The number of freelancers, solopreneurs, and small businesses is growing worldwide.
-  This will drive the demand for easy-to-use solutions that help businesses not only get online but also grow using marketing and lead generation tools, ads, direct emails, and others.
-  However, as more people and businesses get online, competition intensifies, making it more important to help them stand out from the crowd.

That's where we come into play.

Client interviews

Every Hostinger employee is encouraged to have client interviews. We conduct around 1000 of them per year.

We turn client feedback into actionable steps on how to improve our services.

Check out what Kristina Strimaitė, our Chief Marketing Officer, has to say about the impact of client interviews.

Andželika Pranskevičienė 3:35 PM

just had an interview with Victor. He's a professor from Chile 🇨🇱

- He would love us to offer server in Chile, so he would have less latency problems. @Arnas Donauskas
- He got to know Hostinger through constantly seeing our tutorial videos recommendations. 💜
- He is pleased with our articles and tutorials, which helped him multiple times. 💜
- 🇺🇸 Quite recently he was renewing his hosting plan with Paypal and accidentally renewed it twice as he did not receive confirmation, his website were down for half of a day and he had to contact support. Conversation @Robertas Jašmontas

@client-interview-help, could you contact him with gifr options? thank you in advance 🙏

Customer connection

We start with the customer and work backward. Every day, hundreds of our colleagues — and our AI assistant, Kodee — interact with customers.

At Hostinger, every employee has the opportunity to experience this firsthand by shadowing a customer success agent and observing how they handle real-time conversations.

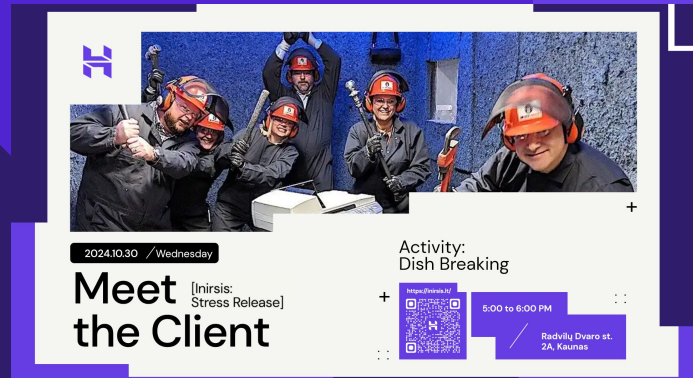

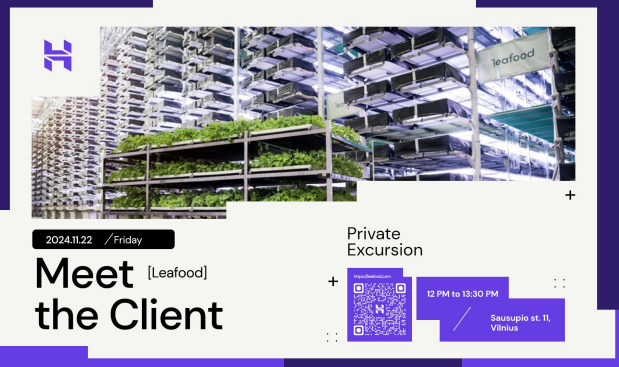

Meet the client

Interviews and observations are valuable, but meeting our clients in person takes it a step further.

Whether it is puppy yoga, degustation, or an escape room, these live interactions give us a chance to meet the person behind the client's name, get to know them and discuss their needs in an informal environment, and strengthen our team.

We don't limit this initiative to Lithuania or Indonesia – we try to meet our clients wherever we go – be it a business trip or a workation.

Product testing sessions

Every day, we strive to create seamless experiences for our customers, constantly enhancing our services.

To make this vision a reality, we invite all Hostinger team members to participate in product testing sessions.

These sessions provide a unique opportunity to explore our products firsthand, share valuable insights, and collaborate with our product team to drive meaningful improvements.

Ownership

You care deeply about our customers and Hostinger's success

You are passionate: committed in heart and mind

You make decisions based on the long term

You never say "that's not my job"

You act on behalf of the entire company, beyond just your own team

Learn and be curious

You constantly learn and always seek to improve yourself

You are curious about new possibilities and explore them

It is in your nature to innovate

We read a lot

Every year, we order more than 1,000 books to fuel this passion and here are the TOP 5 books in our library.

Hire and develop the best

You always hire better people than yourself

You help people to scale within the organization

Leaders develop leaders and take their role in coaching others seriously

You keep only highly effective people

Highest standards

You strive for the highest standards, and many may think these standards are excessively high

You are continually raising the bar and drive your team to deliver high quality services

You inspire others with your thirst for excellence

Freedom and responsibility

You are self-motivated, self-aware, self-disciplined, and self-improving

You don't wait or want to be told what to do

You love freedom and you definitely deserve it

Focus

You constantly ask yourself what is the best thing I can do today that will contribute to the long term success

You think strategically, and can articulate what you are or are not trying to do

You are good at using data to support your intuition and make decisions

Bias toward action

Speed matters in business

Many decisions and actions are reversible and do not need extensive study

You promote action-oriented behavior, rather than discussion based work

You do the smallest thing possible and get it out as quickly as possible

Read more:

How we built one of the most advanced LLM-based chat assistants: Lessons learned and tips ↗

Courage and candidness

You say what you think even if it is uncomfortable

You give each other radically candid feedback and never wait to do so

You make tough decisions without agonizing

You question actions inconsistent with our Principles
